#THEWEIGHTOWIN

The Horse Trust's Healthiest Body Condition Awards

The Horse Trust, in partnership with veterinary and social scientists from the University of Liverpool, launched Weigh to Win in 2019, a pioneering initiative designed to tackle equine obesity through participation, engagement, and positive reinforcement.

The Horse Trust's Healthiest Body Condition Awards return once again to the London International Horse Show, celebrating horses that demonstrate a healthy body condition and recognising the dedication, knowledge and care that goes into keeping horses healthy and performing at their best.

At the heart of the awards is a simple principle: welfare always comes first. In line with wider showing welfare standards, the award recognises horses whose condition reflects thoughtful management and an understanding of their individual needs, rather than presentation alone.

Good welfare and success in the ring can go hand in hand. Many class winners and champions are also recognised with a Healthiest Body Condition rosette, celebrating horses that are supported by careful management and a focus on their health and wellbeing.

2024 Winner
Maddy Cameron and Ideal Option
Judge: Dr Caroline Bullard MRCVS

2025 Winner Liz Brown and Peruvian Sunset

This year the awards will take place on Saturday 19th December in a mix of BSHA and BSPS Classes:
